

Complaint management policy

This is a mandated policy under the operational policy framework and staff are required to adhere to the content. Any edits to this policy must follow the process outlined on the creating, updating and deleting operational policies page.

Overview

The Department for Education (department) promotes and values feedback and works to manage complaints to improve performance, systems and service delivery.

This policy aims to:

- ensure an open, accessible and transparent complaint management system
- ensure feedback, suggestions and complaints are managed effectively, fairly, confidentially and objectively
- inform and identify where service improvements can be made
- provide guidance on key principles and concepts of the complaint management system.

Scope

Complaints managed in line with this policy are those where the customer expresses dissatisfaction about the service or action of the department or its staff and is directly affected.

Detail

The department maintains an effective and responsive customer feedback and complaint management system (CMS) to support consistent and high-quality management of feedback and complaints.

All complaints are taken seriously. When complaints are received, they are assessed, prioritised, documented and recorded. Resolution occurs at a local level (with the original decision maker) wherever able and as quickly as possible.

The department maintains good communication with customers throughout the process, including prompt acknowledgement, information about expected timeframes, outcomes and avenues of review. The department explains the basis on which a decision is made.

For specific requirements for schools and preschools about complaint management processes refer to:

- appendix 1 – complaint management and reporting
- complaint management procedure \(PDF 199KB\).

Schools and preschools must conform to this policy and the DPC Circular PC039 Complaint Management in the South Australian Public Sector.

A shorter version of this policy is available in draft on the simplified policies for schools and preschools page (staff login required), which schools can use and provide to parents and families.

Guiding Principles

This policy is based on 7 principles:

Commitment

A commitment to resolving complaints and a culture that recognises an individual's right to complain. Feedback is valued on systems, service delivery, policies and staff. Complaint handling is focused on improvements, reaching a satisfactory outcome, possible review of policy and procedure, and not on assigning blame.

Accessibility

The provision of a complaints and feedback process that is culturally responsive, accessible and inclusive to everyone, particularly individuals who require assistance.

Transparency

How to make a complaint, where to complain and how the complaint is handled, is clear and publicly available.

Objectivity and Fairness

Complaints are addressed with integrity, impartiality, within established timeframes, and assessed and prioritised in an equitable manner.

Privacy

Feedback and complaint information is handled according to DPC Circular PC012 – Information Privacy Principles Instructions.

Accountability

Explanations are provided for decision making and complaint handling performance and subject to internal and external review processes.

Continuous Improvement

Feedback and complaint data is acted on, learnt from and utilised to enable the identification of problems and the improvement of services.

Complaints out of scope

Where the complaint relates to a matter that is out of scope of this policy, the customer is advised and assisted to redirect their complaint to the appropriate authority or service.

This includes:

- employee disputes, grievances and conduct
- non departmental employees
- child protection matters
- private school issues.

More detailed information and who to contact in these cases can be found in appendix 2 – complaints out of scope.

How to make a complaint to the department

The department endorses a 3 level approach to complaint handling recognised as best practice in the Australian Standard 10002:2022 Guidelines for complaint management in organisations (ISO 10002:2018, NEQ). Refer to raising a complaint with the department \(PDF 232KB\) for a step-by-step process.

Appendix 1 – complaint management and reporting outlines the ways a complaint can be made, types of support available and the role of the Customer Feedback Team.

Managing unreasonable customer conduct

The department provides an inclusive and open customer feedback and complaint management process underpinned by the 7 principles outlined in the guiding principles section of this policy.

All customers are treated with fairness and respect. Behaviour that is aggressive, violent, disrespectful or abusive is not tolerated.

Staff safety and wellbeing is paramount when dealing with unreasonable behaviour under the department's workforce health and safety and duty of care obligations. There is a need to balance the right for someone to make a complaint with the rights of staff to safety and respect, and the rights of other customers to equal time and resources.

Defining unreasonable conduct

Unreasonable conduct is any customer behaviour which, because of its nature or frequency, raises substantial health, wellbeing, resource or equity issues for the department, staff, other service users or the customer themselves. Refer to appendix 4 – unreasonable customer conduct for the 5 categories of unreasonable customer conduct.

Appendix 1 – complaint management and reporting outlines how unreasonable conduct is managed by the department.

Privacy

The department's disclosure of personal information is governed by the Government of South Australia's Information Privacy Principles Instructions \(IPPs\) and Information Sharing Guidelines \(ISG\).

In some instances when it is believed that a child or person is at risk of harm, information will be shared with third party service providers in accordance with the ISG and the Children and Young People \(Safety\) Act 2017.

When responding to a complaint, personal details or details of the complaint may need to be disclosed to other departmental staff on an as-need basis or to the Ombudsman SA on request. Only de-identified data is used for public reporting to protect the privacy of individuals.

Roles and responsibilities

Senior Executive Group

Promote a culture that values feedback and complaints and their effective resolution.

Ensure the department maintains an effective complaint management system.

Provide leadership and oversight to the complaint management system within their division, ensuring procedures and processes are in place and that all customer feedback and complaints are recorded, responded to and managed appropriately, and in a manner consistent with this policy.

Ensure escalation and internal review processes are in place within divisions.

Identify opportunities and systemic issues, and implement corrective actions and improvements.

Provide central support and coordination for the department's complaint management system, including corporate policy, reporting and performance monitoring.

Principals, preschool directors, education directors, directors

Clearly communicate to staff their responsibilities and requirements, including policy and procedures, related to complaints and feedback.

Ensure that information about the complaint management system is easily accessible at school and preschools and data is reported annually and available on request.

Provide oversight to the operations of the complaint management system in their responsible business area/s. Consider data and systemic issues as part of strategic planning.

Director, Customer and Information Services

Establish a robust process to manage, monitor and report on customer feedback and complaints managed by Customer Feedback.

Monitor, review and evaluate this policy and ensure it is accessible to the public on the department website.

Manager, Customer Feedback

Provide high-level leadership, direction and effective operational management of the Customer Feedback Team.

Liaise with key stakeholders on departmental complaint management practice.

Provide high-level complaint management policy and operational advice to executives.

All Staff

Ensure they are familiar with the policy and act accordingly.

Understand and comply with the department's complaint management system.

Help people who wish to make complaints, and record in line with local processes.

Definitions

complaint management system

Encompasses all aspects of the policies, procedures, practices, staff and infrastructure used by the department in the management of complaints.

complaint

A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction made to or about an agency, relating to its products, services, employees or the handling of a complaint, where a response or resolution is explicitly or implicitly expected or legally required.

customer

Parent, carer or community member directly affected by a decision or action of the department.

Customer Feedback

A central team that manages level 2 complaints related to schools and preschools received from a parent, guardian or community member who is directly affected by a decision or action taken and department feedback.

facilitated negotiation

Parties to a dispute identify the issues they want to negotiate. The Facilitator may advise on or determine the process of facilitation.

feedback

An opinion, comment or expression of interest or concern, made directly or indirectly to or about the agency, about its products, services, employees or its handling of a complaint. A response is not explicitly or implicitly expected or legally required. Feedback can be either positive or negative.

original decision-maker

The employee who made the original decision.

Ombudsman of South Australia (OSA)

An independent agency that investigates complaints made about government agencies.

Appendix 1 – Complaint management and reporting

The 3 levels of complaint handling applied by the department

The department aims to resolve complaints at a local level with either the original decision maker or their line manager. Wherever possible, staff will be adequately equipped to respond to complaints, including being given appropriate authority, training and supervision.

Level 1 – frontline complaint handling and early resolution

If a customer is not happy with a decision made or action taken by a school, preschool or corporate office they should first contact the original decision maker to discuss the matter and raise their concerns directly. This might be a Teacher, staff member, Principal or Preschool Director. This is often the quickest and easiest way to resolve a complaint.

Level 2 – central complaint resolution

If a customer is not satisfied that their complaint has been addressed after they have exhausted options at the school or preschool level and with the Preschool Director or Principal, the Customer Feedback Team is the next level contact.

The role of Customer Feedback is to give advice about the issues behind a school or preschool decision and to confirm if departmental policy and procedure has been followed. Customer Feedback liaise with schools and preschools to help all parties explore appropriate options for resolution. The Customer Feedback team are not a disciplinary or investigative body.

Customer Feedback aim to provide an outcome within 20 working days. Where this cannot occur due to the complexity of the matter or other extenuating circumstances, the customer is provided with regular updates.

If a complaint has been raised directly with the original decision maker in a corporate office and/or their line manager and the customer is not satisfied that the complaint has been addressed, the matter can be lodged with Customer Feedback for referral to the appropriate executive to action.

Level 3 – external complaint resolution

Customers may seek an external review from an independent body if all avenues to resolve the complaint have been used and the matter remains unresolved. An external review can be sought through the Ombudsman SA.

Refer to appendix 3 – internal and external review options for school and preschool complaints for more details.

How to make a complaint or provide feedback to Customer Feedback

Anyone who has been affected by a decision or action at a school or preschool (including a failure to make a decision or take action) can make a complaint.

You can lodge a complaint about a school or preschool to Customer Feedback:

- by phone, (free call 1800 677 435)
- in writing by using the online form

Refer to tips to make a complaint or give feedback to the department before making a complaint.

For more information refer to:

- make a complaint or give feedback about a school or preschool
- give feedback, compliments or suggestions about the department.
- raising a complaint with the department \(PDF 232KB\).

Anyone can provide feedback to Customer Feedback about departmental services. All feedback, compliments or suggestions are passed on to the appropriate area or person. The difference between a complaint and feedback is outlined in our complaint management policy.

Complaints received about a corporate office will be forwarded onto the relevant Manager or delegate for action. Customer Feedback does not resolve complaints directly related to a corporate office or staff member.

If you need help to make a complaint refer to help to make a complaint.

We accept anonymous complaints and feedback. If there is enough information we will action and/or respond. However, if there is little information and no contact details, the matter can't be followed up.

Reporting on performance

To measure the performance of the department, regular reports are gathered on:

- Level 1 complaints – principals, preschool directors and team leaders monitor and record complaint handling compliance, statistics and trends. Particulars of the volume, nature and results of complaint handling, including whether resolution occurred locally or was referred to Customer Feedback is reported annually by schools and preschools.
- Level 2 complaints – Customer Feedback provide a quarterly report to the department's Senior Executive Group and to relevant executives monthly. Customer Feedback complaint data is also published in the department's annual report.

An analysis of these reports is undertaken regularly to identify and monitor trends, review the quality of service and make improvements.

Managing unreasonable conduct towards a school or preschool

If a customer's unreasonable conduct persists or becomes extreme, there are a range of options to manage the conduct towards school and preschool staff.

Depending on the severity and frequency of the behaviours, school or preschool actions can range from changing or limiting access to staff, students and school premises through to involving police. Unreasonable conduct includes bombarding staff with phone calls, visits, letters and emails after being requested not to.

Where steps to manage unreasonable conduct have been exhausted at a local level, education directors can contact the Manager, Customer Feedback for help. By negotiation, and depending on the circumstances and conduct, the Manager, Customer Feedback may consider:

- providing specific education staff complaint handling training, and support tools
- guiding and supporting the school to manage ongoing communication and to assist with the development of communication strategies or a site managed communication restriction for a period of time.
- a once-off negotiation meeting facilitated by Customer Feedback staff (parties to a dispute identify the issues they want to negotiate or mediate) - the facilitator may advise on or determine the process of facilitation)

If schools and preschools need help with managing misbehaviour by persons on school or preschool premises, refer to the managing protections for teachers, staff and students procedure \(PDF 262KB\).

Managing unreasonable conduct towards a corporate office

If there is unreasonable customer conduct towards staff, a staff member may:

- identify the unreasonable behaviour to the customer
- ask the customer to change their behaviour
- state the possible consequences if the behaviour continues (identify the limits)
- advise that a call or meeting will be terminated if the behaviour continues
- contact the police if needed.

If the unreasonable behaviour continues, the staff member will document the behaviour and advise their Line Manager or Leader. Depending on the severity and frequency of the behaviour, the Line Manager or Leader may consider changing or limiting access to the officer and/or corporate office.

All changes or restrictions to communication must be given in writing to the complainant, outlining the reasons for restriction. This must include:

- date
- time
- location of behaviour

- the duration and when the restriction will be reviewed.

Unreasonable conduct is defined in the complaint management policy.

Appendix 2 – Complaints out-of-scope

The complaint management policy does not apply to matters that are subject to judicial determination, or determination by a statutory authority. This includes:

- child protection proceedings including court orders per the Children and Young People \(Safety\) Act 2017
- proceedings that have been brought before the Equal Opportunity Commission or the Australian Human Rights Commission
- matters that are under investigation by Ombudsman SA.

Minister for Education, Training and Skills, Chief Executive or delegated authority

The policy does not apply to decisions by the Minister for Education, Training and Skills, Chief Executive or delegated authority, made under a legislative instrument. This includes exclusions and expulsions, and control of trespass and misbehaviour on school premises as per the Education and Children's Services Regulations 2020. An appeal to the relevant authority may be made for exclusions and expulsions.

Non-Department for Education staff

The policy does not apply to non-Department for Education staff such as:

- governing and school councils (refer to the school level policy and procedure or governing council glossary of terms for more information)
- employees of governing councils
- external agencies who may be using Department for Education premises.

Other matters out of scope

The policy does not apply to matters:

- subject to civil litigation
- of managing school re-engagement processes. Refer to the attendance policy \(PDF 242KB\) for more information
- regarding volunteers and service provider complaints, employee disputes and grievances, or staff complaints of misconduct. These are managed through the employee complaints procedure \(PDF 1MB\) (staff login required).

Extreme incidents

Incidents categorised of extreme seriousness/severity are managed by the Incident Management Directorate (staff login required).

Appendix 3 – Internal and external review process for school or preschool complaints

If the complainant (the person that made the complaint) has exhausted all avenues to resolve their concern and is not satisfied that it has been sufficiently addressed or actioned, they may seek an internal or external review.

Internal review – summary of process

An internal review is an option available once Customer Feedback have finalised a complaint. In circumstances where you believe there was an error in dealing with the case, an application for an internal review can be made.

There are two stages to an internal review.

The first stage is to make application for an internal review (see applying for an internal review). Once a request for an internal review has been received, a senior officer will consider the matter to determine if:

- policy and procedure has been correctly applied with regard to the matter in question, and in accordance with this policy
- there is any additional new information required to better clarify the matter
- there was a potential error of judgement or assessment in the process.

If the officer determines that the matter has been assessed and reviewed fairly and in accordance with policy and procedure, you will be notified of this and the reasons why and the matter will be closed.

At this point, you will also be advised of your right to seek an independent external review via the Ombudsman SA.

The second stage of internal review applies in cases where the senior officer determines that there may have been a potential error of judgement or assessment, policy has not been applied correctly or more information is required in order to make a more comprehensive determination.

You will be advised that an internal review report is to be prepared which can take up to 12 weeks (see applying for an internal review for more information about an internal review report process).

A customer feedback officer (a different officer to the one that made the original decision) will prepare a comprehensive report for consideration of a senior executive (often the Chief Executive). This report outlines a timeline of events and the policies and other documentation used as the basis for decisions made, as well as any other relevant documents, emails and material that helps provide a full evidenced based picture of the events and the final decision that was made.

During the preparation of the report, the officer may speak to a range of people involved in the matter including you to clarify issues or seek additional information where this is required. Relevant sections of the draft report may be provided to people directly involved in the matter to 'fact check' and to ensure correct understanding/interpretation of what transpired.

The final report is provided to the relevant senior executive or chief executive for endorsement. Relevant sections of the report relating to any errors in judgement or areas for improvement are usually provided to parties to the matter.

If there are any recommended actions or amendments approved by the delegate regarding changes to the original decision, changes to policies, process or system improvements, they are communicated to all parties to the matter. Customer and Information services will then follow up status and actions within an agreed timeframe to ensure all approved actions have been completed.

Once the final internal review report has been completed and relevant aspects communicated to all parties, you will be advised of your right to seek an external review via the office of the Ombudsman SA (see independent external reviews).

Applying for an internal review

You may request an internal review for up to 4 weeks after Customer Feedback have advised in writing that a matter is finalised.

You can request an internal review by completing an application for internal review \(PDF 1MB\) and forwarding it to the Manager, Customer Feedback.

You need to:

- be specific about where you believe there is a breach of policy or procedure not previously identified
- explain why you believe there was an error in managing your case
- provide evidence in support of your request.

A request for an internal review:

- cannot be made solely because you are dissatisfied with the outcome
- is not a re-investigation of a matter already considered and closed if there is no new information/evidence.

Once you submit your request you will receive an acknowledgment within 2 working days and you will be contacted within 7 working days by the Customer Feedback manager or delegate, to advise if your request for the next stage of review is supported or declined. If your request is not supported, we will tell you and explain why. You can only submit one request for an internal review on the same matter(s).

If you believe there are special circumstances that may need to be considered outside of the 4 week period (such as additional information being sourced that was not available at the time the matter was originally considered) you can contact the Manager, Customer Feedback, (put the details of the manager contact here) and request consideration of the 4 week period to be waived.

Internal review report process

The internal review report process involves 7 steps. These are:

1. within 2 days – confirmation of receipt of the internal review request
2. within 7 days – a customer feedback officer will contact you to advise the outcome of the internal review request (i.e. the matter has been considered and will not progress further (see summary of

process) or the matter will progress to an internal review report

If progressing to an internal review report:

3. within 6 weeks – sourcing and reviewing all relevant materials such as emails, telephone calls, documents, decisions and processes. This may include speaking with people involved in the original decision
4. within 6 to 7 weeks – a draft copy of the report is prepared, and relevant sections may be sent to you and other parties to the matter for feedback/comment.
5. within 14 days after feedback on the draft report closes - the final report is prepared and forwarded to the relevant senior executive or chief executive
6. within 12 weeks – the outcome of the delegates decisions will be communicated to you and all parties to the matter.
7. throughout the period of review – progress updates of the review including notice of any unexpected delays will be communicated to you

Possible findings or recommendations from the internal review

After the internal review, possible findings or recommendations may include:

- a breach of policy or procedure is identified resulting in amendments or changes to practice. This outcome may require a fresh look at the original complaint in light of this resulting in a change to the original decision.
- there may be a statement confirming that the decision is upheld and that there were no errors of judgement
- an acknowledgement that the matter was handled appropriately, or alternatively that the matter could have been managed differently which may have been more appropriate to the situation although the outcome/decision would have been the same
- system improvements or improved communication and practice to reduce the risk of something similar occurring again.

Independent external reviews

Applying for an independent external review

If you have exhausted all avenues of the complaint management process with the department, or if you are not satisfied that your matter has been sufficiently considered and actioned, you may want to seek an independent external review.

Ombudsman SA

A complaint can be made about an administrative action or inaction by the department to the Ombudsman.

SA (OSA). The circumstances of the complaint will influence whether the option of an external review is available. A formal complaint can be made to the OSA by phone or in writing.

Other options

Consider the following options if you are still dissatisfied with the outcome of your complaint.

- The Education Standards Board (ESB) is a State Government authority that regulates early childhood services and schools. If your complaint is in relation to compliance with the law, or you are unsure whether the ESB has the legislative capacity to respond to your complaint, contact them by email ESB.schools@sa.gov.au or phone 1800 882 413.
- If you want to work out if your complaint falls within responsibilities of the Teachers Registration Board (TRB) of SA, about conduct of a registered teacher, refer to the TRB complaint about a teacher information sheet found on the TRB web site. You can call them for an initial enquiry on (08) 8253 9700.

Appendix 4 – Unreasonable customer conduct when making a complaint

The Department for Education (the department) is committed to being accessible and responsive to individuals who wish to raise a complaint or provide feedback about our service delivery.

When an individual behaves unreasonably in their dealings with staff, it can compromise their ability to respond to a complaint.

The department will act to manage any conduct that negatively and unreasonably affects the ability of staff to perform their role in a safe environment. This includes all staff in schools, preschools, the Customer Feedback Team and the broader education department.

What is unreasonable conduct?

Unreasonable behaviour can be separated into 5 categories of conduct:

1. Unreasonable persistence
 - an unwillingness or inability to accept reasonable and logical explanations including final decisions
 - bombarding staff with phone calls, visits, letters, and emails after being asked not to do so.
2. Unreasonable demands
 - issuing instructions or making demands to staff on how the complaint should be managed, its priority or the outcome that should be achieved
 - demanding services that can't be provided, when this has already been explained. For example revenge or punishment.
3. Unreasonable lack of cooperation
 - sending a constant stream of disorganised information without clearly defining the issues
 - providing little or no detail with a complaint
 - arguing frequently and with intensity that a particular solution is the correct one.
4. Unreasonable arguments
 - failing to follow a logical sequence
 - not supported by any evidence or based on conspiracy theories
 - false, malicious or inflammatory comments.
5. Unreasonable behaviours
 - swearing, yelling or derogatory, racist, sexist or defamatory remarks
 - harassment, intimidation, threats or violence
 - rude, confronting and threatening correspondence

- emotional manipulation and stalking (online or in person).

Outcome of unreasonable conduct

Depending on the severity of the behaviour, unreasonable conduct can:

- change or limit your access to staff, students, school or preschool sites and department offices
- result in the issue of a warning or a prohibition on a school or preschool site
- result in police involvement.

Help for making a complaint
